MIXED THE DEAD.

Certain Catholic Church Officials. DAYTON (0.,) Jan. 21.—Suit has been brought in the Common Pleas Court here by Anton Ruhsam against Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati, about twenty other officials of the Catholic churches and of Calvary cemetery here for $20,000 damages. The alleged cause of the suit is the removal of the remains of plaintiff's relatives from St. Henry's cemetery here, which had been sold to a syndicate here for town lots, to the new Calvary cemetery outside the city limits.

It is alleged that the agreement was that the remains of plaintiff's relatives be removed singly and when he was present, so that their identity could be preserved. Instead of this the plaintiff claims the remains were placed in one grave and the identity of same has been lost; that the head-stones were destroyed and the graves desecrated. Other suits are threat-ened. DAYTON (O.,) Jan. 21.-Suit has

JUDGE ERSKINE M. ROSS. The Probable Successor of Assoc Justice Stephen J. Field.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—A special to the Dally News from Washington says that Associate Justice Field will go upon the retired list at the close of this term of the Supreme Court, if he keeps the promise he made recently to the Presi-dent and Senator White of California. If my health should not permit me to attend to my duties easily I should not hesitate to leave the bench. As long is I can attend to these duties with ease I have no intention of retiring. At present my health is very good. Should I again be ill, as I was last year, I should not hesitate to retire. These stories in regard to my intention of re-

It is generally understood that Just-ice Field is ambitious to exceed the term of service of Chief Justice Mar-shall, whose thirty-four and a half years on the Supreme bench constitute the longest term of service in the history of the court. Justice Fleid was appointed by President Lincoln in March, 1863.

YORK, Jan. 21.-(Special Dispatch.) Unrepentant and unchanged y the prayers of the Christian Er by the prayers of the Chischan re-deavorers, Col. Bob Ingersoll has re-turned from his western lecture tour. As far as he can decide, he says, he is entirely unchanged by the thousands of petitions put up for him, and he does not expect to be changed until his brain grows weak. At the same time brain grows weak. At the same time he feels mildly grateful. He added:

"No prayer was ever answered, of course, but prayer may be a kind of relief to the one who prays. For my part, while I believe these prayers have not in any way affected me, I feel a certain sort of mild kindness toward these people. You remember how the girl felt about her hand squeezed by a young man. It pleases him and does not burt man, 'It pleases him and does not hurt ne,' she said.

"People are getting more and more tired of the churches. Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, hell and the devil have not drawn with the force that they had twenty, or even ten, years ago. The churches have got to change their tune or go under. While in Kalamazoo I visited the People's Church and was pleased with it. This church has no creed. No belief was required. It makes no difference whether people believe in God or not, or in the inspira-tion of the Bible. The object is to make people better, nobler, more charl-table; to educate the little children of the poor; to correct the abuses and erors of the time; to make people happy in this world. It turns its attention to the present and wishes to develop the brain, strength for the body and civilize the heart."

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

LONDON, Jan. 21 .- (By Atlantic Cable.) Rt. Hon. G. J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty, addressing the conservatives at East Grinston tonight declared no menace to any country was intended by the formation of the flying squadron. "It will be ready," he continued, "for any emergency and will remain under the orders of the Admiralty, rather than of the Foreign Office. The dispo sition of it will be guided by naval and not political considerations. the political situation remains as it is. I beg the public if they hear that the squadron has been sent to any particular quarter not to imagine that the notive is necessarily a menace against our neighbors or our rivals.

"For the present, it is to proceed to Berhaven and wait for further orders.
At present it is not intended to orranize a second squadron."

DIPLOMACY"-SAVE THE MARK! WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The prediction is freely made by members of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs that, if the proposed reaffirmation of the Monroe doctrine is adopted by the Senate, and sent over to the House for action, it will be allowed to rest quietly in the committee files. A canvass of more than a majority of both Republican and Democratic members of the committee failed to discover any member who Indorsed it.

One of the foremost authorities on diplomatic matters in the House said he deemed it very poor diplomacy to take any steps tending to increase the tension between this government and House Committee on Foreign Affairs

COMMERCIAL WARFARE AGAINST ENGLAND. NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A dispatch to the Herald from Caracas, Venezuela, says that the Cabinet is now discussing says that the Cabinet is now discussing a case which has attracted much attention here. It involved the introduction of manufactures from England into the republic and is the first step, perhaps, in the practical application of the suggestion that commercial warfare be waged against England and all European countries. George Turnbull of Boston, who claims part ownership in the great iron mines in the Imataca Mountains, not far from the Orinoco, and within the territory contested by England, started from Great Britain with mining machines and material which were consigned to a firm in Ciudad Bolivar.

In the course of his voyage he stopped at Barbadoes, where he disembarked with his material. There he chartered a vessel and had the manifest approved, his destination being La Guayra.

He was further informed that his act was regarded as an invasion of Vene-zuelan territory, and that it was prob-able that his machinery would be con-fiscated.

The mines near Imataca are in the territory covered by the Manoa grant, owned by an American syndicate, including nearly 15,000,000 acres. The grant was made by President Crespo for the purpose of developing the country now claimed by England. The prize of fered by the Pregonero in its fight for a commercial boycott against the Europeans has been awarded to one who makes a proposal that a standing notice shall appear in the press generally telling citizens of Venezuela who purchase British products that they thereby increase British power.

y on what is said to be a visit of inspection.

A report has just reached here of an episode of interest in connection with the visit of the acting governor to Bartica. The streets of the town were gayly decorated with bunting, foliage and flowers for several days preceding the arrival of the official visitor.

Conspicuous among the decorations were many American flags. A few hours before the governor reached the city, Michael McTurk and Capt. Baker, inspector of prisoners, arrived at Bartica. Some fer minutes later not an American flag was visible in the streets. The sudden disappearance of the Stars and Stripes caused comment, and it was finally explained that the American flags had been removed out of deference to the magistrate, McTurk.

"Only one power keeps the nations of Europe from instantly declaring war. The bankers and business men have become the arbiters between nations. "The events of the past few weeks have demonstrated how easy it is to arouse the fighting blood among our own people. A generation has come upon the stage since the civil war who are eager for war. There are occasions when war is both right and necessary and a nation must embark upon it without counting the consequences, but the issue of a battle is never certain nor does the arbitrament of war always end in right or justice.

"Now is the time for the profession to perform a great work upon the lines of the lawyers of the country—in promoting international arbitration. The principal dispute between English-speaking races which is agitating the world calls for both practical wisdom and legal acumen for its solution. There is no dissent in this country from the Monroe doctrine as promulgated by Jefferson, Madison, Webster and Calhoun. Yet anyone who studies the Monroe doctrine will see how, in each individual case, except where there is a flagrant violation, like the French invasion of Mexico, the applicable interpretation of it should be the subject of judicial determination.

"The President's message to Congress presents a novel view of the principle. If there is a dispute as to the boundary line between a South American republic and a European power, no matter how insignificant the territory involved or how distantly it affects the independence of the country or how remotely it may interest us, we must demand that the two governments arbitrate the line and if they refuse we must find out as would require an immense standing army. The United States is the only nation so situated that it can with honor and safety move upon the pathway of peace for an international court of arbitration.

"We have no fears of the countries to the south or north of us," he said, "and all the transports and navies of the world could not land upon our shores an army which could march 100 miles from the seacoast or ever return to their ships. Secure in our isolation, supreme in our resources, unequalled in our reserves and free from dangerous neighbors, we occupy among the nations of the globe a position so exacted and safe that to compare us with other countries would be absurd. The statesman or politician who really fears for the safety of this country is a fool. The statesman or politician who does not fear (because he knows better) and yet who preaches of our weakness and our vulnerability, is a demagogue, and he insults the intelligence ness and our vulnerability, is a dema-gogue, and he insults the intelligence of the American papers."

of the American people."

The independence of location, Dr. Depew said, eminently fitted the United States for the leadership in the great peace movemnt.

FOUR YOUNG TRAVELERS.

THE AHRENS CHILDREN REACH NEW YORK IN SAFETY.

Kind Hands Help to Smooth the Long Journey from Their Cali-fornia Home—Experiences on the Trip—A Bunco Man.

ON THE POPAPH TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(Special Dispatch.) Four little orphans, Charles, Dora, Georgie and Harry Ahrens, wh arrived last night on the Cromwell line steamship Louisiana from New Orleans, are safe at the epd of a long journey. The members of this little family have made a great stir in the world since they started, unaccompa nied, from their home in Loomis, Cal., two weeks ago. Their parents died there recently, and the Free Masons took charge of the children and made arrangements for their transporta-tion to New York. They were consigned like freight to the agent of each road over which they had to travel. No travelers ever came over the South ern Pacific road in whose behalf more general orders and special instructions

President Huntington, when he was informed that the little parentless quar-tette were coming, wired the general manager that they should be treated with the greatest consideration and care. And so they were everywhere along the line, conductors, brakemen along the line, conductors, brakemen and agents competing with each other to make the journey of the children safe and comfortable. When they reached New Orleans, they were met by an agent there, who welcomed them as if they had been of royal blood Toys, candies and fruits were show ered upon them, and the lunch that the loving ones at their California home had put up is now at their New York home, a souvenir of the trip.

The Cuban Question Rushed Into Congress.

Disposition Manifested by the Senate to Proceed Deliberately, House Committee and the Monroe Doctrine, ORY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The Sen te put aside finance and foreign af fairs today and gave the day to work on comparatively minor bills on the calendar. About seventy bills were passed, clearing the calendar of much ecumulation and leaving only sive attention early in the day.

The House today passed the Urgent Deficiency bill. The bill carries $4,-415,922, of which $3,242,582 was for the expenses of United States courts. The abnormal growth of expenses under the fee system of the courts came in for a good deal of criticism, and there was a general expression in favor of

REGULAR SESSION. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senator Call of Florida, in the Senate today read the following telegram from Key West: "Marquis Roderldguez has been from steamer Olivette last Wednesday. Louis Samallien and son also taken at Havana. All Americans. Get them out of the grasp of the Span-Get them out of the grasp of the Spanish authorities." Senator Call offered a resolution reciting the arrests and directing the executive authorities to ascertain if any just cause for the arrest existed, and if not to demand the immediate release of the prisoners. Senator Hoar suggested that the tone of the resolution was too imperative. There seemed to be an idea, he said, that the Senate of the United States is a constantly-loaded cannon, which is a constantly-loaded cannon, which can be touched off at any time by a Senator. He urged an inquiry of the State Department before a demand. Senator Call answered that he wished to know whether the American flag afforded any protection to citizens. He referred to the arrests of Americans in Cuba while citizens of other countries vere not disturbed. Senator Sherman pointed out that were not disturbed.

Senator Sherman pointed out that such a resolution might give the Senate trouble in other cases. It should go to the Committee on Foreign Relations for appropriate consideration.

Senator Call said it was the duty of the Senate to act on such information as this telegram gave. He desired the people to know that he was ready to act promptly, although he did not object to committee consideration.

Senator Cullom of Illinois of the Committee on Foreign Relations stated that he understood there would be a communication from the Secretary of State, perhaps today, as to the arrests of United States citizens in Cuba. It was finally agreed that the resolution should go to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Senator Call again returned to the Cuban subject by asking Senator Sherman what was to be done as to the pending resolution, tasking the State Department for information furnished by United States consuls in Cuba. Senator Sherman replied that he regarded the resolution as inexpedient. It might endanger the consuls and thousands of lives if confidential communications were made public. Senator Call did not further press the resolution.

AGAINST FREE HOMESTEAD.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The House Committee on Public Lands has received from Secretary Smith a strong adverse report against the Free Homestead Hill. The bill absolves all persons completing a five-years' residence on lands taken and occupied under homestead laws from making further payment to secure their title other than the fees incident to filing and obtaining proof. The measure is a sweeping one and the land officials estimate that its passage would involve at least $43,000,-000 cost to the government and $15,000,-000 to Oklahoma alone, this being the amount paid Indians for relinquishment of their lands.

Commissioner Lamoreaux of the General Land Office, in a report accompanying Mr. Smith's letter, urges several reasons why the bill should not pass, and says:

"The payment of money considerations for lands by settlers thereon in these cases appears to be the foundation on which the whole transaction between them and the government was based and without which the government would not have entered into engagements with the Indians by which the acquisition of title by settlers was rendered possible. The purpose of the bill seems to be to repeal all the provisions of existing laws under which homestead entries have been made for public lands for which a certain price per acre is to be paid by the entrymen.

"Large tracts of land have been acquired through purchase from Indians, For some of this land the Indians have already been paid by the government and for other portions the government is still responsible. There are also abandoned military reservations involved which have become valuable because of their location, usually is settled communities, and persons entering them have had a distinct understanding that they were to pay for them at a certain price per acre."

When the present administration came when the present administration came into power there were in the treasury about $29,000,000 in silver dollars coined from bullion under the act of 1890, and available for the redemption of treasury notes issued in payment for the bullion purchased. Since August, 1893, about $18,000,000 of these notes have been redeemed in silver dollars and cancelled.

have been redeemed in silver dollars and cancelled.

The Secretary of the Treasury has now decided to coin from the bullion now on hand and purchased under the act of 1890, about $18,000,000, which will restore the amount of dollars in the treasury to what it was on March 4. 1892. The average cost of the silver bullion purchased under the Sherman act was 71½ cents on the dollar, which leaves a gain or seigniorage of 28½ cents on the dollar. At this rate the seigniorage on the $18,000,000 to be coined would be $5,130,000, which will be accounted for in the available cash on hand, increasing it by that amount. The order for the resumption of the colnage at the mints at Philadelphia, New Orleans and San Francisco is expected in a day or two.

can points whose trade ought to be ours. We must have mail and rapid communication with these countries, or we can never have their business. The Manufacturers' Association is also interested in great waterways, commissions, and the building of the Nicaragua Canal, which is a necessity of the modern commercial intercourse between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, as well as between China, Japan, South American and the Sandwich Islands. It is also a necessity for our national defense. When the canal is built, it will practically obviate the necessity for a double navy to guard our Atlantic and Pacific coasts, for it will not only connect both, but decrease the space between them 10,000 miles.

"The association will take the ground that the canal should be owned and operated by the United States. As to the completion of that enterprise, there can be no doubt. I know the canal will be built, and if the United States does not build it, Europe will establish another pregnant cause of war when national troubles and jealousies arise. The present Venezuelan trouble emphasized the necessity for this canal. Money for its construction could have been secured long ago from Europe, if our national Legislature had not been talking and passing resolutions, about its ownership. If Congress does not do anything this session, we will feel perfectly free to look elsewhere for the means to complete the link between the oceans.

The Habit of Free Speech. (Harper's Weekly:) How fixed and universal the habit of free speech is in this country appears and reappears at short intervals in the efforts of the this country appears and reappears at short intervals in the efforts of the secretaries of the army and navy to keep army and navy officers from talking and behaving as though they were free and independent citizens in civil life. It is felt in Washington, and felt on good grounds, that the duty of military and naval officers is to carry out the orders of their superiors without questioning or criticising them in public. But the habit of criticising our bosses in politics is so strong on all of us that it is not surprising that our brethren in the service find trouble in keeping out of it. A lot of naval officers got together the other day, to the scandal of their department, to discuss certain measures proposed to be taken against an impending bill for the reorganization of the navy which would be disadvantageous to some of them. Secretary Herbert thought it highly improper for naval officers to take action for or against any measure of Congress, and some agitation ensued, with promise of more to come. Admiral Meade criticised the administration last summer, and went on the retired list in consequence. Last week two retired Meade criticised the administration last summer, and went on the retired list in consequence. Last week two retired naval officers were quoted in the news-papers as criticising the President's message. One of them explained and was exonerated. The other at this writing has not been heard of. Naval officers for some reason seem more writing has not been heard of. Naval officers for some reason seem more subject to indiscretions of this sort than officers of the army, perhaps because they go about more, and are mixed up with more international complications, so that their talk is more apt to concern matters of international policy. It is a safe rule for every naval and millitary officer to remember that as long as he draws pay from the government he is part of it, and that in what he says and does about matters of public concern he represents the government, and that his opinions, being representative, are too important to be carelessly imparted.

The public will soon become as weary of Maher and Fitzsimmons as they be of Maher and Fitzsimmons as they be-came of Corbett and Fitz. Already columns and columns of newspaper space have been wasted in talking about that proposed battle between the Irish champion and the Australian, and still there are thousands of people who think they'll never meet.

MISS OVERMAN'S LETTERS.

Will Play an Important Part in Dr Brown's Examination.

(BY ASSOCIATED PIESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Miss Mattle Overman has demanded the right to appear before the board of inquiry which is to try the charges of immorality brought against Rev. Dr. Brown, and give her version of the affair which has so distressed the people of the church.

Miss Overman has prepared a volumi-lous document and, like the Rev. Dr. nous document and, like the Rev. Dr. Brown, insists upon the privilege of reading it to the members of the joint committee. Her request was discussed at some length and the opinion pre-vailed that it should be granted. The statement of the young woman is very long, reviewing all the incidents which have become public property since the have become public property since the arrest of Mrs. Davidson. Particular attention was paid to the letters which Miss Overman wrote to her friend, Mrs. Tunnell. These letters will constitute one of the most important features of the inquiry. The committee is particularly anxious to know whether or not they are genuine. When they are convinced of that fact by inspection they will then institute a very rigid crosswill then institute a very rigid cross examination. In asking to appear be fore the board of inquiry Miss Overman

These letters were private property then and, so far as known, only two persons were aware of their contents. Miss Overman's defense was made of other material. She met the charges of Mrs. Davidson upon other grounds. She was ready to produce letters which were written to her by Dr. Brown at the very time that Mrs. Davidson charges that an amour was in progress.

HIGH LICENSE WON.

Supreme Court Sustains th Merced Supervisors' Action. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.-The Supreme Court sustained today the high license order of Merced county by a decision in a suit brought by the county, against C. E. Fleming to re-cover a liquor license. The action was brought to test the legality of the ordinance. The judgment of the lower court was for the county and Fleming appealed. The most important law point on the question involved was as to whether the Judge erred in excluding evidence offered by the defendant to prove that the effect of the ordinance, if enforced, was to virtually prohibit the retail traffic in liquors in Merced county. The Supreme Court found that the Judge did not err in excluding this evidence. brought to test the legality of the ordi the Judge did not err in excluding this evidence.

The court said that it was true that the power to regulate for the purpose of revenue was not the power to prohibit and that an attempt to accomplish the latter object under a pretense of regulation could not be upheld. An ordinance that provided for high revenue that was tantamount to prohibition was invalid, but the court had no right to judge of the general effect of an ordinance by considering its effect upon a single individual. The presumption is that the Supervisors were actuated by good motives in passing the order and it is not to be supposed that, while pretending to fix the tax for revenue, they would make it prohibitory.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

OAKLAND, Jan. 21.—Lord Sholto Douglas hopes to be at some time a showman of whom the shade of the great Barnum would not be ashamed. At any rate, that's what his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mooney-Addis, says. She declares that he is becoming an American business man, and that, according to his very practical mamma-in-law, is greater than to be a king. This is one of the reasons why Mrs. Mooney-Addis, who hyphenates her name since her daughter got her name into the recognized official register of the peerage, has opened her motherly heart to her son-in-law, who is so far away from his kith and kin.

'Sholto-for I never call him His Lordship; I am his mother, and so it is only Sholto with me now-has very good business ideas. He is becoming quite practical, and we are all very much pleased with the according to the future, and is already some-

We have a great deal of dramatic talent in our family, and Lord Sholto seems to know how to utilize it. If he were to lend his rame to such a combination and add the talent that we possess to his name, it would carry any venture all over the United States."

Mrs. Mooney-Addis says that the new theatrical venture is an assured fact, and that when Lord Sholto Douglas returns to San Francisco in the course of a few days the arrangements will be made. His two sisters will be back in a few days, and everything will be ready by spring.

These letters, as already related, are barren of the suggestion of affection.
They will still form a strong part of the case, as Dr. Brown and Miss Overman will present it to the board of inquiry, But in view of the second document, which was furnished yesterday, the Brown letters constitute an incident of only minor importance. In the second statement Miss Overman lays particular stress upon the letters which she wrote to Mrs. Tunnell. These letters must be explained. The committee statement Miss Overman tries to supply this explanation.

At 12:30 o'clock this morning a wild-eyed and excited young man, arrayed in a pair of rubbers, gold-rimmed pectacles and a frock coat, rushed in the Police Station like a whirlwind, crying in a hysterical manner: "Send an officer up to the Y M C A building cer up to the Y.M.C.A. buildin quick! UTAH'S SENATORS GIVE THANKS. SALT LAKE (Utah,) January 21.— Frank J. Cannon and Arthur Brown were today elected to the United States with but two dissenting voices among the Republican members of the Legislature. There was no ex-citement during the balloting. It was a foregone conclusion that the caucu had practically settled the election. The ballot in the Senate was 12 each for Cannon and Brown (Rep.,) and 5 each for Thatcher and Rawlins (Dem.) In the House the ballot was: Can-non, 31; Brown, 29; Goodwin, 1; Bennett, 1; Thatcher, 14; Rawlins, 14.

When the vote was announced a committee of three was appointed to conduct the successful candidates to the Senate chamber and, after a few the Senate chamber and, after a few minutes' wait, they entered amidst tumultuous cheering and applause. thanks for your action in my behalf this afternoon. In doing so I remember the great responsibility which devolves upon me, and, however, unequal to the task I may be, I can assure you that I will always be found trying to do my humble duty to the people who sent me to represent them. One of my greatest aims will be to hoist the cause of silver, at the needed ratio of 16 to 1. and not only will I use my greatest efforts in behalf of silver, but I hope I will always be found striving in my weak way to work for the advancement of Utah's interest in general." (Applause.)

Senator Frank J. Cannon then arose and said in part: "Citizens of Utah: For what you have conferred upon me, I thank you. It is not, I hope, above what my future actions will deserve. In your voting today you have voted for free men and, in electing Mr. Brown and myself to represent you in the legislative halls of the nation, you send us as representatives of a free State. The actions of this legislative body in electing us have been actions untainted and unblemished. ST. LOUIS (Mo.,) Jan. 21.—The National Republican Committee's subcommittee, after a two-days' session here, finally completed its business, signed the contract with the Business Men's League for the care of the Republican National Convention to be held June 16 next, and adjourned sine die this afternoon.

Joseph Manley, chairman of the subcommittee, said the arrangements had been perfected for the convention to the entire satisfaction of all. The citizens of St. Louis are to bear the entire expense 'attending the convention. Each member of the national convention is to bear his own personal expenses. The Citizens' Committee, however, will provide rooms for the meeting of the National Committee for transacting its official business in connection with the convention. Mr. Manley said he was also authorized to say for every member of the sub-committee, that the selection of the sergeant-atarms and his deputies had no connection whatever with any particular candidate and has no significance regarding the Presidential contest.

Accompanied by Mr. Alder of Chicago, as consulting architect, the members of the sub-committee were escorted to the exposition building by the Citizens' Committee this afternoon. They inspected the north nave of the immense building, which will be remodeled to suit the wants of the convention. When completed it is estimated that the hall will seat at least 15,000 people and will have ample committee rooms. Everything that can be done to facilitate the work of the press and telegraph service is being arranged for. The accommodations, it is stated, will be the most complete in every detail that have been afforded at any other national convention. In executive session at noon the com-mittee appointed the following com-

On Printing—J. S. Clarkson of Iowa,
W. H. Hahn of Ohio, and R. C. Kerens of Missouri.

W. H. Hahn of Ohio, and R. C. Kerens of Missouri.

On Hall—Gen. Clayton of Arkansas, W. J. Campbell of Illinois and Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin.

It was decided that visiting Republicans would have to look to the delegates of their respective districts for tickets to the conventions. The usual number of tickets would be given to the local committee.

A resolution was adopted providing that 500 admission tickets, set apart for the Grand Army of the Republic, be turned over to the members of the council of administration of that organization for distribution on the basis of membership of the organization in each State and Territory. Maj. W. P. Haxford of Washington, D. C., was appointed assistant sergeant -at-arms.

THE VALLEY ROAD. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.-The rectors of the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley Railroad are pleased at the result of their fourth call of a 10 per cent. assessment on the capital stock of the company. All of the subscribers save six have paid their assessments. The six delinquents hold only one share each and the directors expect they will pay up after due notification. The men in charge of the affairs of the competing railroad also awarded a $6000 contract for the iron-work on the truss-bridge across the Tuolumne River. COLORADO RATE TROUBLES. CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The meeting of he western lines called for the purpose of considering the settlement of the Colorado trouble, adjourned this noon and may meet again tomorrow. No agreement was reached today, and the other roads were not able to bring the Rio Grande Western into the asso-ciation. It will probably come in after a time, but it demands concessions the other lines are not willing to grant the other lines are not willing to grant. The aforesaid concessions are announced to be of "no public interest."

The western roads are not prepared to accede to the demands of Commander Walker of the G.A.R., regarding the extension of tickets for the annual encampment. They say that to give these tickets a thirty-day final limit, as demanded by Commander Walker, will open the door wide for all sorts of demoralization, and this they are very anxious to avoid. There is a general feeling among the roads that the Executive Committee of the G.A.R. will not back up the commander in the stand he has taken.

E. L. Recamey is evidently some-what of an epicure. Last night he what of an epicure. Last night he drank not wisely but too well, and, remembering the old proverb, "Prepare for a rainy day," he went forth into the highways and byways and stole three ducas and two chickens. They quacked and cackled, but the law had no terrors for Mr. Remmey, and he carried hem safely to his room, on the corner of Washington and Main streets. Feeling annoyed at one of the ducks, he slow it and cast its carcass out on the roof. Then he drifted away into the land of nod, only to be rudely awakened by Officer Ditewig, who was waiting for him outside wit a a nice carriage with red wheels and a big gray horse. The owner of the fowis has not yet been found.

ADD SOCIETY

A MUSICALE.

The Monday Musicale club was very charmingly entertained last Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carlos Jones, at their home on West Twenty-seventh street. The pretty rooms were all thrown together and decorated artistically. White roses and garlands of smilax were used in the front drawing-room, Marie Henrietta roses and violets in the rear drawing-room, and festoons of gorgeous bignonia in the reception hall. In the dining-room there was a graceful frieze of smilax, and from the chandeller to the table were swung broad bands of pink satin ribbon, terminating at the corners in huge bows, in which were fastened pink carnations and smilax. The carnations were also scattered carelessly over the table. The library was bright with masses of poinsettias. In a cosy corner of the hall was a huge lowl of delicious punch. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Haralson were both very handsome in pink silk under white organdie, with garniture of pink roses. Mrs. Scarborough wore an elegant gown of deep cream brocaded satin, with a bertha of pearls. The programme, which was very finely rendered, consisted of a piano solo, "Consolation," by Liszt, by Mrs. W. T. Botsford; a soprano solo by Mrs. Orr Haralson, David's "Thou Brilliant Bird," which was so beautifully sung that an encore was demanded, to which she graciously responded with "Sleep, Little Rose-bud, Sleep."

Mrs. Gottschalk played a harp solo, Bochsa's "The Gypsy Girl," and in response to an encore, "Home, Sweet Home," with variations. Mrs. James Burdette sung a "Song of the Fairies," and Mrs. Byrne gave as plano solos a song, and "Pierette" by Chaminade, Mrs. Scarborough sang a duet, Donizetti's "A Figlia Incanta," and Mrs. Castorough sang a duet, Donizetti's "A Figlia Incanta," and Mrs. Cottschalk. Applied Christianity.

The meeting of the Institute of Applied Christianity last evening, at the Southern Cahfornia Music Hall on Third street, was quite largely attended. The meeting was presided over by First Vice-President O. P. Smith. J. S. Clark of San Francisco read a paper on the "Labor Exchange," a branch of which was organized in this city Monday, with about one hundred members. Mr. Clark claimed that the distress existing in the community is the result of the defective system of currency, by which the products of labor are secured by the few. The labor exchange association establishes depositories in each locality, and issues checks which constitute a currency based on the products of the labor, and are redeemable in such products. The speaker claimed that the present system of currency is responsible for nine-tenths of the moral obliquities of humanity; cornering the products of industry and so driving men to commit crimes to secure the necessities of life. After the paper, Mr. Clark answered questions put to him, and an informal discussion ensued.

The success of oil as a fuel for locomotives from the Los Angeles field of the Southern California railroad has resulted in a similar attempt in Arizona. The litigation involving the Gila Bend canal is now before Judges Rouse, Hawkins and Bethune, of the Supreme Court, most of it having already been before Chief Justice Baker in the District Court. Three interests are represented, the original Gila Bend Reservoir and Irrigation Company, otherwise ex-Governor Wolfley; the Arizona Construction Company, who did most of the work, and the Peoria, Ill., Interests, whence came the bulk of the funds. At present the fight is Gov. Wolfley against the field, he asking that previous sales be set aside. The prospect is not good for an early adjustment of affairs. Meanwhile the operation of the canal and the settlement of lands thereunder cannot be done. One of the finest irrigation districts in the world awaits the end of the litigation.

The expectation was that a rec-ord of four or five dozen would be reached. Instead of that the contestants reached. Instead of that the contestants stuffed themselves to as high as 150 bivalves. The amusement grew into amazement, as the tenth, eleventh, twelfth, and finally the thirteenth dozen were ordered for a single man. One of the entries, who was late, did not participate on learning that some of his rivals had already done nine dozen. The records made were: Elser, 150; Miller, 132; Hawley, 109; Woodell, 108.

The tendency of this most beautiful of climates found in Arizona is toward lassitude, particularly on the part of lassitude, particularly on the part of tourists not spurred on by considerations of a livelihood. This inclination has been termed by a bright young man from Jersey City "mañana fever," he having coined the expression in a letter to his mother saying he was enjoying Arizona, except that he was troubled with the "mañana fever," His good mother, in great alarm, consulted the family physician about the fever. The M.D. drew a long face and confessed that it had not been down in his studies. A conference was held, and finally the three doctors learnedly informed the anxious mother that the fever was prevalent only in high altitude at the was therefore a common, but infectious and dangerous ailment. A warrant for misdemeanor was then sworn out for Undertaker Lonergan, but came to nothing. The document narrates an occurrence of recent happening, being an altercation between the reporter and detective, during which the former person claimed to have received violent treatment at the hands of the latter. Wells, Fargo & Co., Jointly with the Southern Pacific Company, offer an additional reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of each and every one of the parties connected with the above described robbery." Under this offer W. H. Thompson, alias Kid Thompson, was arrested by W. W. After his conviction Moore and his associates instituted an action for the recovery of the reward. A. B. Lawson, now deceased, and others made parties to this action, also claimed the reward. Thereupon the plaintiffs herein commenced this proceeding to compet the claimants to interplead and establish their right to the reward. The plaintiffs admit in their complaint of interpleader that the reward has been earned by the arrest and conviction of Thompson, and allege they have always been and are now ready and willing to pay the reward to the person or persons thereto legally entitled. Several of the parties made defendants have discialmed or were defauited. Those who are contesting for the reward are W. W. Moore and his associates; J. W. As the plaintiffs have conceded that the reward offered by them has been earned in the arrest and conviction of Thompson, the only question to be considered is which of the parties contesting is entitled to the reward. The testimony shows, in fact, it is conceded, that Moore and his associates.

The delegation was informed by the commissioners that it was beyond their power to change this state of affairs, but the clerk was instructed to request of the Council that an ordinance be adopted which shall give relief from the alleged nuisance.

The Chief reported that the Sunset Telephone Company will hereafter allow officers to use the nickel-in-the slot telephones free of charge.

The following applications for liquor licenses were granted, upon the favorable report of the Chief: A. H. Buckamp, No. 122 South Main street, transfer from J. K. Toup & Co.

Applications for appointment on the police force were received and filed from C. R. Stevens, J. L. Webber, H. Delagrange. The application of A. C. Corson for liquor license at No. 501 East First street was referred to the Chief.

The following report from the Chief came before the commission:

agents and who themselves were entitled to the profered reward for his arrest, if any persons were." See also Burke vs. Wells-Fargo, 50 Cal. 218. Janvrin vs. Town of Exeter, 48 N. H. 83.

It is true the reward requires the conviction as well as the arrest, but this does not mean that the parties who act upon the reward and make the arrest should also convict the party arrested. This it is impossible for them to do. "No person can be convicted of a public offense unless by the verdict of a jury accepted and recorded by the court, or upon a plea of guilty." Penn. C. 689. Technically and legally a plea of guilty is a conviction as well as the verdict of a jury. 4th Blackstone Com. 262, 336. 1st. Institutes, 391. 2d. Blsh. Cr. Law. Sec. 903. Peo. vs. Marsh. 6 Cal., 543. Peo. vs. Goldstein, 32 Cal. 493. Ex Parte Brown, 68 Cal. 176.

It would hardly be contended that if a party arrested under such a reward should plead guilty to the offense charged that the contract had not been complied with and that the party makcharged that the contract had not beer compiled with and that the party mak ing the arrest would not be entitled to recover. Yet if it is required of the party making the arrest to do some ing the arrest would not be entitled to recover. Yet if it is required of the party making the arrest to do something further, or to aid in the conviction, in the case supposed, such a result would follow. In Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company vs. Goodnight, 19 American Reps. 80, the terms of the reward offered were for the capture and conviction. The court say, "If the conviction of the persons named was a condition precedent it was a condition not to be performed by the parties who made the arrests." And they held in that case that inasmuch as the railroad company had interceded with the public authorities not to prosecute the parties arrested, inasmuch as the company wished to use their evidence in other cases that the companies were nevertheless liable for the reward as upon a conviction had. See also to the same effect Besse vs. Dyer, 91 Mass., 151. Schiffer vs. Pruden. 64. Y. 47. Missouri vs. Thornton 42 Mo. App. 64.

91 Mass, 151. Schiffer vs. Fruden. ov. N. Y. 47. Missouri vs. Thornton 42 Mo. App. 48.

The conviction, therefore, is merely a condition precedent to recover the reward and was doubtless inserted for the purpose of requiring the best evidence of the identity of the party arrested as the one who perpetrated the crime. After the arrest the party was turned over to the agent of one of the plaintiffs offering the reward and it was recognized at the time that the claim for the reward was made. After bringing the party arrested to this county and delivering him to the public authorities it was their duty to see that proper proceedings were taken for a conviction if he were guilty; and this was accordingly done, the county bearing the necessary expenses of proguring the evidence. I am of the opinion, therefore, that the Moore party who made the arrest, conviction subsequently following, are entitled to the full amount of the reward. Findings and judgment will go accordingly.

Suit of Lyons vs. Marcher is on Trial.

It is seldom that a steeper or more sudden jump in rent is made than was shown in a suit on trial yesterday be-fore Judge Shaw. W. F. Nordholt owns a lot at the corner of Eighth street and Central avenue, which he has rented for some time past to T. M. Clark, at the rate of $10 a month. A short time ago he sold the land to the city, but the tenant refused to leave. After exhausting milder measures, Nordholt suddenly advanced the rent to $2000 a month, payable in advance. Clark stayed nine days, and then threw up the sponge and decamped. Nordholt is now suing him for the whole $2000, and Judge Shaw has the case under advisement. owns a lot at the corner of Eighth

Young Barnett Discharged.

Justice Young yesterday discharged P. G. Barnett from the accusation made against him of breaking into the hardware store of Gray & Martin, at Downey, and stealing three pocket-knives. The defendant's character was good, and, as the evidence against him was purely circumstantial, it was not considered sufficient to convict.

New Electric Light Engine for County Buildings.

Quite a number of matters came be fore the Board of Supervisors at the regular session yesterday, some of them of a good deal of importance to the county and the taxpayers.

The board yesterday accepted the proposition of the General Electric Company to furnish and install in the county of the coun engine-room, adjoining the Courthouse a complete electric-light plant for light a complete electric-light plant for lighting the Courthouse, Jail and County Hospital. The plant is to consist of an alternating-current generator of 500 sixteen-candle-power lamp capacity; with all necessary station apparatus, switchboard, transformers and pole-line constructed from the Courthouse to the Hospital. Lamps will be installed at the desired locations in the buildings. The electric company propose to furnish and place in the engine-house a first-class steel boiler and one automatic high-speed engine, both of ample capacity to properly operate the plant. The steam plant will include a water-heater and feed pumps, with all necessary pipes and connections complete. The plant will be furnished as

AT THE U. S. BUILDING BELATED TELEGRAM.

The Western Union failed to deliver a telegram sent by Isabella K. Stafford to her brother, and for this negligence Mrs. Stafford wants $11,000 damages. On January 5, 1894, Mrs. Stafford and her mother were on their way to Cor-onado, to make their home with Mrs. Stafford's brother, Edward Kimball, At Barstow a telegram was sent to Mr. Kimball, reading: "Mother sick, meet us this evening at San Diego, Sister." The telegram was transmitted, and duly received at San Diego, but it was never delivered.

The complaint alleges that on account of the non-delivery of the telegram Mr. Kimball was not at the depot to meet his mother and sister. Alone in a strange city at night, ignorant of the location of Mr. Kimball's home, and without a friend to help them, it was only after long hours of anxiety and exposure that Mrs. Stafford and her mother, Mrs. Kimball, at last reached their friends.

As a consequence of this worry and exposure, says the complaint, both ladies fell ill, and Mrs. Kimball never recovered. Therefore Mrs. Stafford asks $1000 damage for her own illness, $5000 for the loss of her mother's love and companionship and $5000 for salve to her brother's wounded affection—his claim for damages having been transferred to Mrs. Stafford.

This case was first filed in the Superior Court of San Diego county. On petition of the defendant, the Western Union Telegraph Company, it has now been transferred to the Circuit Court.

and the older boy were held for trial, with bail at $2000 and $1000 respectively. But poor little Nelson Fritch looked twice as wee-begone as before. He was free to go where he liked—but where could he go? The three have been in the city but seven months, and are almost without friends. To go back to a rented room all by himself, sleeping and eating there all alone—the thought was so inexpressibly dreary that the tears gathered in the boy's eyes and rolled down his chubby German cheeks. So at last it was decided to let him go back to jail with his father and brother, and there remain for the present at least.

Forgery.

Postoffice Inspector Flint will go to Bakersfield on the 2 o'clock train to-day. Mr. Flint goes in answer to a telegram announcing that two men have been arrested for forging a money-order. It is believed that there is a third offender. The telegram contained only scanty information. J. D. Putnam, the Chinese inspector, has just returned from the North. On the way home he was told by a Bakersfield man of this arrest. His informant said that one man took the letters containing money-orders from the postoffice, a second forged the name of the payee, and a third cashed the order. The first two offenders have been arrested, but the third is still at large.

Kam Joy and Goot Sam.

Kam Joy and Goot Sam were arrested the other day, charged with being unlawfully in this country. But a female slave is so valuable that the owners of the women are moving heaven and earth to secure their release. Kam Joy's case was to have come up today, but has been continued until 2 p.m. next Tuesday. Marble & Phibbs have been retained to defend her, and Reardon, probably the most famous Chinese lawyer in America, will come from San Francisco to assist in the case. It is said that testimony will be produced to show that Kam Joy was born in San Francisco. A Chinaman named Wong Shu says that he is her brother-in-law. Some people say that instead he is merely her owner, and spent three weeks in San Francisco negotiating the bargain before he handed over the $2200 which was her purchase price.

Luke Brown of Fresno is under arrest on an indictment returned by the Federal grand jury, charging him with cutting oak timber on government land. He will plead next Monday. Wong Ki Tung is the other culprit. He has been brought from Fresno on a charge of having manufactured to-bacco in his possession on which the internal-revenue stamps had not been placed. He was given until Monday to file a demurrer.

explained to the court that he was not drunk, but had on "just von leedle yag." The substance of Nelson's story was that he provided himself with a bottle of whisky prior to starting for San Fernando. On the way to the depot he stopped at a tamale stand and bought a tamale. In lieu of pay he invited the tamale vender to take a drink out of his bottle. The tamale man took two drinks and poured the rest in a cup, returning to Nelson the empty bottle. A "cop" then came along and took Nelson to the station. "Ven dey put me in de yail, I said to de yailer, I ask you yust von favor; you shmell by breat' und tell me vos I drunk. He shmelled it und said, 'No you yust vos haf on a leedle yag.'"
The jailer's expert testimony was not admitted by the court, and Nelson was found guilty of being intoxicated, for which offense he was fined $3.

The next victim was James Marden, whose "mug" and brogue left no room for doubt that he emigrated from old Ireland's shores. Marden proved himself to be a most fluent talker, and he reeled off the Hiberman language in the pound-master's corral. The court finally succeeded in getting the citizen from Cork corked up and fined him $3.

A physician in a New York town, not far from Albany, writes September 20, 1895: "I had a case recently that will be of interest to you. An old gentleman had suffered from flatulence, due to indigestion; had been so annoyed by it that he had consulted all the indigestion; had been so annoyed by it that he had consulted all the doctors in the vicinity without securing any benefit. Finally he came to my office, I prescribed several remedies which failed utterly. I then prescribed Ripans Tabules, which he reported gave him immediate relief, and he is now nearly cured. FOR HONEST PRIMARIES.

The primary election law passed at

It is certainly to be hoped that this law will be sustained by the courts. While it is perhaps far from perfect, it is unquestionably a great improvement over the old law, and is a gratifying

OUR COUNTRY.

It costs Uncle Sam something to keep this government going, and under ratic engineering he has been running somewhat behind, financially, Not but that he is rich enough, but with a Democratic Congress to manage his affairs he has not been able to lay his hands upon his wealth so that he could pay as he goes.

The American people have found, during the present administration, that it costs a good deal to be governed, and it is not particularly delightful at this time to be made aware that the United States government owes $1.717 -if not in an entire reform, in the re-481,779, and that, owing to a failure of revenues and the selling of bonds, our enormous debt is constantly increasing. This, with the possibility of war staring us in the face, has created, with which there is really no cause, for the people of this country are by no means impoverished. We are a wealthy naboundless. And not less boundless is the patriotism of the American people Let us be assailed by any foreign foe and the nation would rise as one man in defense of the government. There would be no lack of funds for the defense of our national integrity. There would be no withholding of means or of measures necessary for its preservation. The pulse-beat of American freemen would be the same from ocean to ocean. The Red Cross Society was organized to mitigate the horrors of war, and has done noble work on many battlefields and in the hospitals. LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Answer to "Isolation of Indi

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 20.—(To the Editor of The Times:) The extreme onellness of soul described in G. W. Robertson's "Isolation of Individuality," published in yesterday's paper, may be true enough in some particulars, but is not the thought left in very incomplete and depressing shape when we find no reference in it to the results gathered by most of the really lonely characters of history, and the logical effect of their loneliness upon their own work and those who learn of it afterward?

effect of their loneliness upon their own work and those who learn of it afterward?

Let me illustrate the truth which I wish to make clear. Would Dante ever have written as he did if he had not been lonely? Would Longfellow have written either "The Bridge" or "The Light of Stars" if he had not been very lonely? And is it true that these two great souls, in their writings, touch other souls only at one or two points? Mr. Robertson says: "No soul touches another soul except at one or two points, and those chiefly external." How fruitless this expression makes the deeper life seem! On the other hand, listen for a moment to Emerson when he says: "A soul living from a great depth of being awakens in us, by its actions and words, by its very looks and manners, the same power and beauty that a gallery of soulpture or of pictures is wont to animate." Are there no altruistic compensations in "Isolation of Individuality"? Surely there are, and I only regret that they were not pictured by Mr. Robertson simself in direct connection with the loneliness which is, at times, almost unbearable were it not for this thought that continually comes to us—the thought that real loneliness is by no means in vain. Very truly yours, ...

Let Us Have Honest Primaries.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21, 1896.—(To the Editor of The Times.) Now that the new primary election law has been called into question, it may, perhaps, be of interest to learn something of its origin, and it is surely advisable to advance everything possible in its favor, as it is the first chance that has yet been offered to the people of California to escape from slavery under the political boss, at least in a measure. In March, 1894, the Citizens' League conducted a mass-meeting at the Grand Operahouse, which was attended by over 2000 people, for the purpose of awakening and fostering public interest in the work of improving local governmental affairs, and many prominent members of the league thought that occasion to be a most auspicious time for launching a movement for the commencement of a reign of honesty, economy and reform by striking at the root of all political corruption, the primary election. In accordance with that idea, a committee of one hundred representative citizens was named to prepare a plan for conducting primary Let Us Have Honest Primaries.

mary election. In accordance with that idea, a committee of one hundred representative citizens was named to prepare a plan for conducting primary elections. This committee met in April, 1894, and invited the public at large to submit for its consideration plans that would accomplish the desired end.

This committee was fully cognizant of the elements of the task which it had undertaken, and the evils to be corrected by the plan which they might adopt. Long suffering under machine rule had made its members familiar with the crimes of politicians. They were aware that a plan, in order to be successful, must provide means that would prevent the very common practices of packing caucuses and carrying through slates; of stuffing ballot-boxes and voting repeaters; that it must prevent that old game of the Republican boss handing over a large contingent of his followers to the Democratic boss on the day of the Democratic boss on the day of the Democratic primaries, to be voted as good Democrats to defeat the will of the decent element of the party, in return for which favor the Democratic boss brings his army to the aid of the Republican manipulator at the Republican primaries. Another important requisite of such a plan was a feature of popularity, which would tend to bring to the primary polls the large number of citizens who, through indifference or press of business, neglect this very important adjunct of the elective franchise.

In response to the request, something

In response to the request, something more than a dozen plans were sub-mitted, among them being one which was prepared in my office, and which embodied the essence of the law now in was prepared in my omce, and which embodied the essence of the law now in question. It was as follows; "The primary elections of all parties shall be held at the same time and at the same places, by agreement between the different County Central committees. At any present the colling place in the each precinct polling place in the county, on the date which the different ates to a county convention for ch party. Each polling place shall provided with a table and ballot-box for each party holding a primary election, with such clerks, inspectors and judges as the respective parties may wish to employ, and one freat Register clerk for all parties. Such polling place shall be easily accessible to all citizens, and shall be kept open during the primary election and until all votes are cast and counted, and the result announced. Upon a voter's approaching the polls and expressing a desire to cast a ballot, he shall give his name, number and residence, etc., in the same manner as at a general election. Upon the Great Register clerk declaring that he is entitled to vote, he shall name the polltical party in whose primaries he desires to participate, and shall be then at liberty to cast his ballot in the ballot-box of the party which he has designated. No person shall he allowed to vote in the primary election of any political party who is not on the Great Register of the county, nor shall any person be allowed to vote at any place except that which the Great Register of the county, nor shall any person be allowed to vote in the primary election of more than one political party." This plan was submitted to the Committee of One Hundred, with the others, but that body deemed the plan known as the "Postal Primary Election Plan" to be the best of all submitted, and accordingly approved it. We of this city were not alone in attempting primary election reform, for a sturdy movement sprang up in San Francisco soon after our local effort, in which many of that city's leading men took part. They looked over the field and decided to make it their aim to get the Legislature to adopt a general primary election law, and they looked upon the plan herein quoted as being the most advantageous. They prepared it with much more attention to detail than was given in its suggestion to the Committee of One Hundred, and added thereto the penalties for its violation which legislative action could give it, but it is in fact the plan proposed here. It is greatly to be hoped that the courts will declare this law to decent elements of the respective parties; while on the other hand every bummer, every political hanger-on and every ward striker in the State is working every device in his power to bring about its fullification on the ground that it is unconstitutional in that it is special legislation, which is necessary because the corruption lies wholly in the large cities, such as San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and Sacramento.

A Southern California cat deserving of mention has exclusive food tastes which she gratifies by efforts such as are put forth by few other cats in the universe. In early youth this feline was an excellent mouser, but suddenly she gave up mouse-chasing and turned her attention to fishing. She is now seen standing beside shallow waters which are well stocked with fish, watching for prey. She has the record of having clawed from the water fish weighing fully two pounds. This same cat will now and then kill a rattle-snake by running in a circle about the reptile, thus making the rattler dizzy, and then occasionally clawing it be-hind the ears until the snake is exhausted, and is easily killed.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF A SOL-DIER'S WIDOW.

Man Named Allen Was Last Seen

The Coroner will today investigate the death of Mrs. Belle T. Heath, a soldier's widow who died under myster-ious circumstances at her home, No dier's widow who died under injectious circumstances at her home, No. 909 East First street, Monday night.

Mrs. Heath, who was an elderly woman of rather portly frame, was found dead on the floor of her bedroom about noon yesterday. There were pillows under her head, and she was fully dressed, with the exception of her shoes and stockings, which had been removed. The house was occupied, besides Mrs. Heath, by Mrs. E. D. Odell and Mary Olsen, who were tenants of

removed. The house was occupied, besides Mrs. Heath, by Mrs. E. D. Odell and Mary Olsen, who were tenants of Mrs. Heath. It was learned from these women that an old man named Allen was in the habit of spending his evenings with Mrs. Heath, and that they sometimes were quite convivial.

According to the statements of Mrs. Odell and Mrs. Olsen, Allen was at the house with Mrs. Heath Monday evening. Both had been drinking and the neighbors heard them quarreling. During the quarrel a heavy body seemed to strike the floor, and Allen was heard to say, "I will put some pillows under your head." Soon after that he went away. The women in the adjoining room heard Mrs. Heath moaning or breathing heavily for several hours after Allen left, but supposing that she was simply sleeping off the effects of the ilquor she had consumed, they made no investigation. About 10 o'clock the sounds ceased.

As Mrs. Heath was not seen nor heard moving about in her apartments yesterday morning as was her wont, the other inmates of the house made an investigation and found her lying on the floor dead, in front of her bed, as already described. The Coroner and police were notified, and the body was sent to Orr & Hine's undertaking rooms.

already described. The Coroner and police were notified; and the body was sent to Orr & Hine's undertaking rooms.

All efforts to find Allen yesterday afternoon failed, but late in the evening he called at the house and showed apparent surprise and grief to learn that she was dead. It seems that he had been in the habit of staying all night with Mrs. Heath at times, and most of the people in the neighborhood thought he was her husband.

Finding the doors to Mrs. Heath's rooms locked when he went there yesterday evening, Allen went to a grocery store near by to make inquiries. The grocer, thinking he was the bereaved husband, condoled with the old man on the death of his wife. "Yes," said Allen, "it is a great surprise to me. She was all right when I left her yesterday evening. I was going to stay all night, but as I had to get up early in the morning to go to work, she told me I would better go up town and sleep with my son, which I did. I did not find out she was dead ill I came from work this evening."

Allen later went to, Orr & Hine's morgue, where he told practically the same story. He promised to attend the inquest today and said he would bring with him a Broadway real estate man who had loaned money to Mrs. Heath on property which she owned on Boyle Heights. Allen also said the old woman had about $50 in a bank. She drew a small pension as a soldier's widow and had a small income from rents.

The fact that Mrs. Heath is reported to have failen to the floor during a quarrel and scuffle which she had with Allen, and that he left her lying there, stopping only long enough to put some pillows under her head, is considered a suspicious circumstance by the officers. Perhaps Allen will be able to explain it all away at the inquest today.

Part of a bottle of angelica wine and a bottle of whisky were found in the room, forming the only evidence that a carousal had taken place. It is stated that Mrs. Heath was knocked down by a cable car about two months ago, since which time she has not been in good health. Some

The Northwest Los Angeles Improvement Association held a meeting last evening for the purpose of deciding on some definite plan of action for the disposition of the Temple-street cut project. Councilman Snyder, on-account of illness, was unable to be present. On this account the matter was postponed until the evening of January 30.

A petition for the grading of Cleveland street, from Alpine to College street, was reported in circulation. The petition will be presented to the Council next Monday. A petition for the widening of Bellevue avenue from Main street to Buena Vista street, is also being circulated. The electric light at the corner of Alpine and Pearl streets was reported to be in bad condition. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Councilman Snyder for his vote and opposition to the passage of the garbage franchise last Monday. An amendment to the by-laws was adopted; substituting Thursday for Tuesday, as the day on which future meetings of the association shall be held.

Now, after paying incidental expenses, there remains $235.20 to the credit of the league. Mr. Woolwine reported that he had employed Col. W. H. H. Louisa Smeetz's Case Still Hangs in the Balance.

The question of the guilt or innocence of Louisa Smeetz, the Amazonian scarlet woman who is charged with battery for disfiguring the countenance of Deputy Constable Bosqui with her finger nails, still hangs in the balance, although a jury of twelve good men and true struggled with the knottynot to say naughty-points at issue for three solid hours yesterday. At the expiration of that time they stood ten for acquittal and two for convicten for acquittal and two for convic-tion. The attorneys for the defend-ant, laboring under the misapprehension that the odds were against them, moved for the discharge of the jury, and the motion was granted. It is stated that had they been left alone for a little while longer the two stubborn jurors might have been won over and the defendant declared innocent. But now the tedlum of securing a new jury will have to be gone over again, unless the District Attorney moves for a dismissal of the case, which he is likely to do as the trival fracas has that the odds were against them likely to do, as the trival fracas has already cost the county too much

Tramps Robbed a Fish Vender by A fish-vender named Lybarger was

A fish-vender named Lybarger was relieved of $12 in cash Saturday night by two tramps on the road near Rose's ranch. The vagabonds held up the driver of the fish-wagon, and having assured themselves, by going through his pockets, of the exact amount of cash in his possession, pocketed the proceeds and ordered him to drive on. Miss Zimmer, a Salvation Army worker, was accosted by a vagabond, with whom she had a conversation in the blue uniform and related some of his experiences. Among these he told her of two arrests, and that he had "beaten" his way to Pasadena from San Francisco. Miss Zimmer parted company with the tramp before reaching the business part of town, and she afterward remembered that he went toward her home. When she arrived there, at the close of the meeting, she found that the house had been ransacked, but the money, for which the burglar was evidently searching, had been well concealed, and he was unable to find it. Miss Zimmer reported the affair to police headquarters. in the blue uniform and related some

From time to time reports are made of petty thefts from premises in the eastern part of town, the articles taken being of insignificant value. The vagabonds keep clear of the toils of the law by retiring outside the city limits, but it is stated that some effort will be made to clean out their lurking-places with the aid of the county officers.

The company will be practically reorganized by the entrance of a large number of new men, and by the regimental order just received from Col. Berry. The following appointments of non-company series officers for the company were today announced: Corporals Clinton W. Brooks and Charles C. Brown, sergeants: Privates Lev Keen, W. H. Thrall, John A. MOUNT LOWE.

More Cloud Effects-Pleasant Evening Party. ECHO MOUNTAIN, Jan. 21.—(Regular Correspondence.) Only those who have been on the mountains when the clouds were rolling along its flanks, occasionally enveloping the observer in impenetrable gray mist, then opening shifting vistas of beautiful valley scenes, can even conceive of the witchery and fascination of these transitory glimpses of the world below, flecked with flying shadows.

A very interesting party remained over night and took an early trip over the Alpine division under the escort of Prof. Lowe. They were E. W. Hamilton, managing editor of the San Francisco Examiner, who is off duty on a play-spell, and knows where to put in his time: Editor Townsend of the New York Sun, and now famous author of 'Chimmie Fadden:' Harry Gillige just from a trip around the world, and accompanied by his father, J. Gillig: John T. Gaffey, Collector of the Port of Los Angeles, and Walter S. Maxwell.

Rev. and Mrs. W. White and son are from London, where Mr. White preaches at the Bayswater Tabernacle. He gave a short and highly entertaining discourse in the hotel parlor Sunday evening, and the service was rounded up with sacred music, Mrs. Sisson presiding at the organ.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kiefer and son of Los Angeles were accompanied by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lewis and son of Dayton, O. Of course they went over the wonderful Alpine division.

Another party who recently made the Alpine trip consisted of H. E. Huntington and J. A. Muir of the Southern Pacific, and M. H. Sherman of the Pasadena and Los Angeles electric road. After visiting the mountains, Prof. Lowe drove them over the line of the proposed electric road down Lake avenue, thereby making close connection between the Southern Pacific and the Mt. Lowe roads.

THE NEW YEAR AND THE NEW WOMAN.

(Nogales, Ariz., Vidette:) It is a law of nature that old maids always miss it through life. (Phoenix, Ariz., Gazette:) Will the new woman hang up her stocking Christmas or her bloomers? (San Diego Sun:) The year 1896 is leap year. But in her desire to vote, the new woman will forget leap year. (Delano Courier:) Clothes do not al-ways make the man, remarks an ex-change. That's so. Sometimes they make the bloomer girl.

(San Diego Union:) Here's a woman wants to divorce her husband because he bathes but once a year. That's what a man gets for having steady, regular habits and sticking to them. (San Diego Union:) As a rule it is the woman who imagines herself to be pretty that halts in the middle of the sidewalk to hold an animated conver-sation with her friends.

(Santa Barbara Press:) With a leap

(Santa Barbara Press:) With a leap year precedent to stimulate their rapidly-increasing spirit of independence, the bloomer brigade of Amazons will be in a position to make matters pretty sultry for the selfish specimens of bachelordom who have ruled the roost in the past.

(Flagstaff, Ariz., Democrat:) In a town near Rome the men formed a society whose purpose was to combat the extravagance of women, their expensive tastes and love of dress. The women rose in arms, entered the clubroom in force and tore up their paper before the very eyes of the recreant lords of creation. Let this be a warning,

ORANGE AUCTION SALES. Telegraphic advices received today from different eastern points do not show any improvement in prices for California oranges. That they are not lower than they were a week ago is about the most that can be said. Eastern dealers, however, are, judging from reports received, inclined to think that prices will show an advance before the end of this week. These opinions are based on reports sent from here to the effect that the rains have cleared up the orange situation by bringing to the ground all fruit that has been injured by frost. As it would be impossible to ship any such fallen fruit, they understand that the oranges which will go forward from the present time will be sound in every respect. NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A more cheerful temper prevailed in Wail street today and this condition was reflected in spasmodic bursts of comparative strength and animation in the stock speculation. The improvement was not uniform, however, as the more confident tone was based on expectation of a continued easy condition of the money market and the belief that withdrawals of gold for shipment on Saturday will be a nominal amount. The impression that the proposed Monroe doctrine resolution of Senator Davis would be either postponed or defeated caused a feeling of resident in the state of the service of the ser

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The Evening Post's London cablegram says that this was the idlest day the stock market has known for months. Conditions are entirely in favor of great activity in the stock markets, but the political situation is so uncertain that bear and bull operators alike are afraid to act. Kafirs were dull. LEFT THE CUSPIDORS.

Barber Shop Cleaned Out by

Burglars. The Vendevier Bros.' barber shop at No. 123 East Fifth street was cleaned out Monday night, not by the janitor, but by burglars. When the brothers Vandevier and their hired man, James Vandevier and their hired man, James Mooney, went to the shop yesterday morning, they found not a tool left with which they could lather and shave and curtail the hirsuite appendages of their patrons. The entire place had been raneacked, every portable article of value, except the chairs, mirrors and cuspidors, being carried off. Among the articles stolen were eight hair-clippers and nineteen good razors.

The matter was promptly reported to the police and hawkshaws are keeping a sharp lookout for the stolen property. This is but one of many barber shops robbed lately, the keen-edgéd tools used in the tonsorial trade, apparently having a special facination for the knights of the jimmy.

Marcus Daly, the "Copper King." is about to put up $300,000 for a trotting circuit in Montana.

Proposal for Sewer Work Accepted.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 21.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Board of Trustees last evening accepted the bid of Frank Moir for the sewer construction. The successful bidder is to furnish rights-of-way and is to take city bonds 4 per cent, premium in payment for work. The meeting was attended by the full board.

When the sewer question was taken up a communication from Frick Bros., which pointed out that the advertisement for bids for a sewer system did not state anything about a right-of-way, was read, and was filed.

A. B. Hotchikis, Bsq. of Los Angeles, was heard in reference to the bid of Mr. Moir which offered to furnish rights-of-way for the sewer. He said there had during the past year been on the South Side an epidemic, more or less, of typhold fever, and a sewer is needed to relieve the existing conditions. After further remarks, he read a deed of the Southern California Railway Company conveying an easement. a deed of the Southern California Railway Company conveying an easement for right-of-way over its land and also substantiated by one or two written documents the offer to furnish right-of-way over Southern Pacific property. He further announced that his client would purchase the city bonds in sufficient quantity to cover the cost of the work and would pay 4 per cent. premium for them. He was prepared to promptly begin work if his offer be accepted.

Mr. Hotchkiss's remarks were moderately applauded.

The bidder he represented was prepared to negotiate right-of-way over certain land of Mr. Kinney outside the city and not included in Mr. Moir's bid.

Mr. Hotchkiss said he had been reliably informed that the title to the land referred to was clouded. His client was prepared, as a part of his bid, to get that right-of-way by condemnation.

C. L. Powell said that, without considering right-of-way, his bid was the lowest. If right-of-way were to enter into the consideration, he would stand aside.

The board took an adjournment to further consider the bids for a few minutes, and, upon reconvening, accepted the bid of Mr. Moir on the terms above stated, the price being $1.15 per ported, recommending that the present fire-alarm system be discarded and that bids be advertised for for furnishing an electric system to include five non-interfering fire-alarm boxes, an electric-bell striker, wires, switches and other apparatus. The recommendation was adopted and the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for those articles.

The Park Committee reported that the management of the State Forestry Station had offered to furnish trees for the parks of the city. It was ordered that suitable trees be selected and set in the parks.

A recommendation of the City Engineer on the establishment of the grade of Front street was referred to the Street Committee. The question of advertising for sale a franchise for a gas plant was laid over fer one week.

Mr. Vawter called attention to the need of cresswalks crossing alleys, and on motion the Street Superintendent was instructed to at once employ a gang of men to put in such crossings where cement sidewalks have been laid on both sides of the alleys.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD.

General Manager Clark of the Pasadena and Pacific Rajiway was in town Monday evening and gave notice at the meeting of the Board of Trustees of his intention at the next meeting to apply for a permanent franchise to take the place of the special privilege under which tracks have been laid. Mr. Glark said to a Times man that it is the intention to prosecute the construction of the road between Los Angeles and this city from both ends. There has been a good deal of sanoying delay in getting material, but nost of it has arrived. The power-house which is to be located about midway on the line could be completed, if accessary, in about thirty days. From the point where the Bellevue-avenue line inter-

He thinks the road will be completed within two months. When in operation cars will run from Ocean avenue near the beach and at Los Angeles will go to Fourth and Spring streets, the same as the Pasadena cars now do. There has been a great deal of difficulty in getting right-of-way, but this has mostly been obviated. Strange to say, there was not so much trouble where a new route was adopted as where the route of the old road was followed. Thirty-four new cars have been ordered. They are like the ones now used on the Pasadena line. They will be divided between the two lines. It is the intention to give a half-hour service.

POMONA.

POMONA, Jan. 21.—(Regular Correspondence.) The lemon crop of Pomona Valley is fast becoming one of the sources of good revenue to the fruit-growers and others in this locality, and, unless some calamity should overtake it in the next few years, it will be among the first money-producers we have. No longer ago than six or seven years, lemons were regarded as a side issue in this locality and uncertain bearers, and, therefore, not profitable. The experience of the last few seasons has demonstrated, however, that the lemon is well adapted to this region; that varieties have been found that bear prolifically and which have the call in the big wholesale fruit markets. A considerable acreage will be planted to lemons in Pomona and off in the Ontario locality this season. A number of men, who have lemon groves are getting ready to extend the area of their lemon-growing property. Last summer the demand for lemons was far in excess of the supply and many a man sold lemons at 3 cents a pound, where there is profit at 1 cent. All the lemon-growers in Pomona have made money since their trees came into bearing. It is thought that this valley and Ontario will ship some 140 carloads of lemons this year, or about seventy-five thousand boxes. In 1890 the orange crop of the same section could have been packed in two or three cars. WINTER AND SPRING UNITED.

Information has reached Pomona that the James Rogers and Miss Ida Nelson one James Rogers and Miss Ida Nelson were married at some place near Prescott, Ariz, last Sunday. The interest in the marriage is caused by the fact that the groom is between 70 and 75 years old, and the bride is about 16. Mr. Rogers came from Des Moines, Iowa, a year ago and has spent a good deal of time in Pomona and with relatives near Lordsburg. He has been living in Los Angeles for the last few months, and has bought over $900 worth of property on Sixteenth street there. He is said to be worth from $70,000 to $90,000 in land in Iowa, houses and lots in Des Moines and property in Los Angeles, He has been married twice, and has grandchildren and several great-grand-children. The old gentleman lost his second wife about three years ago, He went to board with a family of ranch people named Nelson near San Dimas last summer, and took the whole family at his own expense on a long vacation at Redondo Beach. Along in October, Mr. Rogers declared to his children, that he was going to marry Ida Nelson, who is the second daughter in the family where he boarded. The children made all manner of protests, and begged their father to take several inonths for considering the foolishness of a man of his age marrying a merchild. It seems that the old gentleman heeded their advice and went back to consult with other children in Des Moines. He waited four months to consider the matrimonial step, then he went to Arizona, where the Nelsons are now living, and married the girl. It is said that Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will spend a day or two in Pomona next week on their way to their home in Los Angeles.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 21.—(Regular Correspondence.) The testimony in the Ebanks murder trial is all in. The lawyers will sum up the case today, and possibly the jury will find a verdict. Witnesses testified on Monday to show that Ebanks, carried a flour sack on the road instead of a bundle made out of handkerchiefs, as claimed by the prisoner. The case, as it now stands, appears to be unfavorable for the defendant. It is learned that Ebanks has received $300 from his mother, on one of the West India Islands, where she owns a plantation, and his brothers are cocoanut shippers. Ebanks is said to have told Deputy Sheriff Jennings that he wapted some work done for him, and could raise $1000 for the purpose. Jennings said he would summon witnesses, etc., for the prisoner, but that he could not do anything for him that was not proper. Ebanks deprecated the suggestion of bribery, and did not talk further about the $1000.

held in the Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening to take action with reference to the much-agitated subject of incorporation, and which is to come again before the Board of Supervisors in the nature of a third petition, the two previous ones having failed of their intention through faults heretofore made public. The heavy rain made the attendance smaller than if the weather had been clement, but new boundaries were decided upon and the petition prepared for signatures. The people are still anxious for incorporation and naturally weary of the aggravating delays.

The Glen Fruit Company is compelled to let up on orange shipments for the present, on account of the glut in the eastern markets. Up to January 1 they had shipped sixty-two carloads and expect to ship 150 more between now and the first of May. Fruit being held is in good condition. On January 1 of the present year the postoffice of Azusa was made a Presidential one, and Postmaster Streshley is giving general satisfaction. Fourteen mails are received and dispatched daily. During the past year money orders amounting to over $12,000 were issued; stamps to the amount of $1829.26 sold and stamps to the amount of $1829.26 sold and stamps to the valuation of $1534.50 cancelled. A movement is on foot among the western colleges which, if consummated, will mean independence in college athletics. Conway McMillan of the University of Michigan has sent out letters proposing a conference to adjust matters between the colleges. The scheme of a western organization includes the Universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin, Northwestern University, University of Illinois, University of Chicago, Purdue and University of Michigan and possibly Iowa University. It has been proposed to hold the conference some time during the winter, but no action has as yet been taken. It is not intended to do away with the rules and regulations of the Amateur Athletic Union, but it is likely that the union will be asked to modify some of its present statutes.

MANUFACTURING EXPLOSIVES. The United States Torpedo Statics

The United States Torpedo Statica at Newport, R. I.

(Harper's Weekly:) The harbor of Newport, R. I., is an oval recess of Narragansett Bay, having as its outer rim Goat Island, which not only shields the harbor from gales, but since the earliest years of the colony has been devoted to its defense. A battery was erected here as early as 1700, and since then fortifications have been rebuilt again and again, until now the whole island is ridged with earthworks. But their guns are all gone, and instead of artillery the Island is garrisoned by the staff, students and workmen of the United States Naval Torpedo Station.

If you are as fortunate as was the writer in your visit to the station, and are allowed to visit the various shops and laboratories, you may see these torpedoes in process of fitting and examine their structure. Two forms have been selected for use in our navy—the Whitehead, long ago adopted by European governments, and the Howell.

They look much alike externally, a cigar-shaped case of steel about twelve feet long and fourteen to eighteen inches in diameter, roundly conical at the head, and more tapering toward the "tail," where one or two screws and both horizontal and vertical rudders propel and guide it. The forward fourth of the torpedo is separate and contains the charge of guncotton. When loaded the center of gravity is near the middle, and a stud upon the back, sliding along a groove in the roof of the tube by which it is discharged, insures the delivery of the torpedo to the water in exactly the right position to proceed straight ahead as aimed; and the tubes are so mounted on shipboard that they can be turned and alimed in any direction, like an ordinary gun.

The torpedo, having been discharged from the "gun" by a charge of pow-of half-consumed blocks were raked out of the ruins. On board ship the main stock is kept damp in the magazine, but a quantity of dry gun-cotton is preserved in glass jars in the cabin, together with detonators. When a torpedo head is loaded it is nearly filled with the damp blocks, next to which is placed a small quantity of dry guncotton, and upon that a detonator of fulminate of mercury. A very slight shock of electrical current will fire the fulminate, which seems to communicate just the right vibrations to the Gowns with Petticoats to Match.

(Harper's Bazar:) Tailor gowns are restored to much of their pristine importance now that dressmakers as well as tailors consider broadcloth the most fashionable woolen fabric of the season. And the tailors have made a new and charming adjunct to cloth gowns in a silken petticoat matching the silk of which the only waist of the dress is made, and also matching the silk lining of the coat and skirt of cloth. Such pretty petticoats are a positive comfort to womanly women, who began to fear that this essentially feminine garment would be gradually ousted by the much-talked-of knickerbockers, riding tights, etc. But its frou-frou is too attractive to be given up, and, moreover, the new skirt has some new features, such as long shallow scallops at the foot to make it fall inaesily with the curved folds of the cloth skirt and yet retain its straight edge. Altogether the abundance of the gay silk, usually in contrast to the color of the cloth, greatly enhances the good looks of the severe tailor-made gown. At the top the five breadths of taffeta are gathered into a yoke of taffeta about eight or ten inches deep, doing away with all superfluous fulness around the hips, and neatly decorated with rows of feather-stitching. The foot is trimmed with two or three narrow blas frills, pinked on one edge and headed by an inch-wide ruche pinked on both edges. For morning and afternoon shopping, driving or coaching, nothing can be in better form than a black broadcloth coat and skirt with a waist of light apple-green taffeta, lining of the same in jacket and skirt, and a green taffeta petticoat to match. For this suit Redfern makes a very short jacket for the street, with little fan-pleatings in the back that disclose the green lining. The front has stitched revers and collar, and all the seams are strapped to a point just below the wa

Bobby's Composition—Parents.

(Harper's Round Table:) Parents are things which boys have to look after them. Most girls also flave parents. Parents consist of Pas and Mas. Pas talk a good deal about what they are going to do, but mostly it's Mas that make you mind.

Sometimes it is different, though. Once there was a boy came home from college on vacation. His parents lived on a farm. There was work to be done on a farm. Work on a farm always has to be done early in the morning. This boy didn't get up. His sister goes to the stairway and calis: "Willia," it is a beautiful morning. Rise and list to the lark." The boy didn't say anything. Then his Ma calls: "William, it is time to get up. Your breakfast is growing cold." The boy kept right on not saying anything. Then his Pa puts his head in the stairway, and says he, "Bill!" "Coming, sir" says the boy.

I know a boy that hasn't got any parents. He goes in swimming whenever he pleases. But I am going to stick to my parents.

However, I don't tell them so, 'cause they might get it into their heads that I couldn't get along without them.

Says this boy to me, "Parents are a nuisance; they aren't what they're cracked up to be." Says I to him, "Just the same, I find 'em handy to have. Parents have their failings, of course, like all of us, but on the whole I approve of 'em."

prove of 'em."

Once a man says to me, "Bobby, do you love your parents?" "Well," says I, you love your parents? Well, 2ays I, "I'm not a-quarreling with 'em."
Once a boy at boarding-school went to calling his Pa the Governor, and got his allowance cut down one-half. His Pa said he ought to have waited till he Pa said he ought to have wanted this was going to college.

Much more might be written about parents, showing their habits and so forth, but I will leave the task to

VETERAN OFFICERS.

The Loyal Legion of Honor Regaled with History, Poetry and Lunch.

There was a pleasant gathering of old soldiers in the Blanchard-Fitzger-ald Hall last evening. It was a meet-ing of the Southern California Associa-tion of Companions of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States. Col. C. Bentzoni presided, in the absence of the president, Col. G. Wiley Wells.

The first business was the passing of several resolutions—one congratulating ex-Gov. J. B. Foraker upon his election ex-Gov. J. B. Foraker upon his election to the Senate of the United States; amother expressing it as the sense of the association that members should wear the insignia of the order whenever they appear in full dress, and two others tendering sympathy and hopes of speedy recovery to Capt. C. W. Seamans, and Col. G. Wiley Wells, respectively, both of whom are seriously ill. W. N. Monroe was elected to membership.

W. N. Monroe was elected to membership.

Col. Bentzoni read a paper entitled "The First Gun of the War." Unlike most papers read at such gatherings, it said no word of sanguinary battles, of the great struggles of which all the world has heard, but described the days before the great conflict had really begun. The paper showed that the first shot was not from Fort Moultrie, but from Miles Island, in Charleston Harbor. Capt. Glibert E. Overton read a witty narrative poem, which had been written for the occasion by Maj. William A. Elderkin, who was unavoidably absent. The poem was entitled "Euphrastes Fox." The programme concluded with a vocal solo by Dr. M. F. Price.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to lunch a la fourchette, and the fighting over again of battles innumerable. Maj. George H. Bonebrake has invited the association to hold its next meeting at his home, No. 2619 South Figueroa street.

The English and German Specialists. Los Angeles, Ca', Byrne Building.

Los Angeles, Jan. 1st, 1894,

I was seriously afflicted for about ten years with lung, liver and kidney troubles Tongue could never express the misery I endured during those years. I was reduced in fiesh until I was a mere skeleton—my sight and hearing were badly impaired; was constantly troubled with constipation and piles and had a severe chronic cough. In short, life was a burden and death would have been a welcome guest. I was treated by various specialists from the United States and Canada, but of no avail. I tried all the patent medicines and pills I ever high the patent medicines and pills I ever high. Through the years temporary re life. Through the years temporary re life. Through the years temporary focurse, like many others, I had no faith in a Chinese doctor, but it only took a few doses of his life-giving herbs to knock all the skepticism out of meand give meliuplicit faith in his superhuman skill. In just five weeks the doctor pronounced me cured and now I can truthfully say that I never was healthier, and never felt better in my life. My sight and hearing are both fully restored that obnoxious a cough, constipation, and piles are entirely cured and I am rapidly gaining in fiesh—having gained 40 pounds in two months. I am truly grateful to the doctor for having created in me a new life.
